Dear Scouts:

I appreciate this opportunity to write to you as you prepare to climb some of the mountain peaks of Utah. I would like to commend you on your achievements in Scouting thus far. I know the hard work and dedication necessary to obtain these goals will benefit each of you throughout your lives.

As you pursue your educational and professional goals, remember to apply the principles you are learning as a Scout. Your discipline and commitment to earn the rank of Eagle Scout will indicate that you have great potential. Our community and country will always be in need of good citizens like you who are willing to go the extra mile.

Best of luck to each of you as you undertake your quest. May you always be driven to achieve excellence in your lives.

Sincerely,

Michael O. Leavitt
